    a. 34
3. Where are you from?
    a. A city outside of Dallas.
4. Any siblings?
    a. Yes, Tre my older brother and you Blaise.
5. Do you believe in astrology?
    a. I dabble. I am a pretty earthy spiritual person.
6. What's your star sign?
    a. Pisces
7. A Pisces is said to be compassionate, artistic, intuitive, gentle, wise and musical. Do you think these personality traits are accurate? ?
    a. Not really, but that may just be because I put on a hard front to protect myself.
8. Do you think being a middle kid is also to blame for that? Did you ever feel middle child syndrome?
    a. For a little while, yes, while growing up. I thought you were the golden child because you're the baby and can do no wrong. Then when Tre went to the military, that's all mom and dad cared about. Now that we are older and you and Tre are off doing your own things, I'm the one mom and dad interact with most. It an interesting turn.
9. What are your hobbies?
    a. I like to roller skate, I play flag football sometimes, I'm learning to sew, I've started aerial yoga, I like to doodle and color. I also have plants that I'm trying to keep alive, they're surviving so far.
10. Are you where you want to be in life?
    a. No
11. Where do you want to be?

a. I’d like to move to Chicago someday. I'm still not sure what I want to do but I love fashion, and I have the personality to match. I also just want to travel and see the world, but I don’t know It will work out, it always does.

Biography

Brianna is not your stereotypical middle child of three. Instead of falling victim to the middle child syndrome, her big personality almost demands attention everywhere she goes. She is only 5 feet and 5 inches but if you ask anyone who knows her, they'll say she's 6 feet at the very least. She was born February 19th, making her the water sign Pisces. Brianna is a self-proclaimed earthy spiritual person and doesn't fully believe that the personality traits of a Pisces match her very well. A Pisces is said to be compassionate, artistic, intuitive, gentle, wise and musical. She says she has a hard exterior and doesn't allow herself to present as gentle as a way of protecting herself.

Growing up in a city outside of Dallas, Texas, Brianna had what she describes as a pretty average middle-class upbringing. Although she admits to experiencing middle child syndrome during her childhood, things have changed as she and her siblings have gotten older. She once felt that her younger sibling was the golden child, while her older brother received most of the attention when he joined the military. Now, she finds herself being the sibling who interacts with their parents the most.

Some of Brianna's hobbies have stayed with her since childhood, including roller skating, doodling, and playing flag football. More recently, she has taken an interest in aerial yoga, sewing and caring for plants, which she jokingly says are surviving so far.

Brianna has dreams of moving to Chicago someday and pursuing her love of fashion. Over the years she's traveled to many states and countries, but Chicago has a special place in her heart. Although she hasn't quite figured out exactly what she wants to do, she is confident that her personality and interests will help her find her way.

My goal is to make this site look similar to the old Myspace pages. Bri is a true 90's - 2000s kid and grew up with the rise of myspace and Facebook which paved the way for the social media we have today. I want to make the about me and hobbies pages look like pop-up windows that can be minimized if that's allowed. If not, the pages will look similar to the Home page but only have relevant information on it.
